

SHARING IDENTITY

Since 2007, FAITH has awarded scholarships to the top finalists of the National St. John Chrysostom Oratorical Festival. This special competition gives young Greek Americans a local and national platform to write and speak about the impact and relevance their heritage and identities have in their lives and contemporary culture. This year finalists spoke on topics ranging from navigating personal challenges to analyzing societal divides following the pandemic.

JUNIOR DIVISION

1st - Nicole Petrutiu, Detroit
2nd - Sophia Hahn, Pittsburgh
3rd - Nicholas Christon, Denver

HONORABLE MENTION

Evan Anagnostopoulos, San Francisco
Kailah Callaham, New Jersey
Ana DeBassio, Archdiocese
Iliana Fotopoulos, Atlanta
Vilson Lipa, Boston
Leo Petropoulos, Chicago

SENIOR DIVISION

1st - Sophia Nichols, Boston
2nd - Markella Nacopoulos, Pittsburgh
3rd - Despina Anagnostopoulos, San Francisco

HONORABLE MENTION

Georgia Haviaras, Detroit
Maria Malamis, Chicago
Evangeline Mueller, Denver
Alexa Pacholyk, Archdiocese
Constantina Pilarinos, New Jersey
Anna Shelley, Atlanta

